PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Fourth Celebration Americanism Beacon in Chaotic Period

Citizens' Patriotism and Loyalty

LOCAL FUND IS SOUGHT

One who resides in these parts of many hallowed memories could easily enough strew himself into philosophical paths as he gives thought to the use of fireworks as a holocaust or an ultimately burnt offering to a cause for which he holds and it would seem this local business of an annual spectacle to celebrate the birthday of our nation can be defended in a specially definite manner when one reflects on the kind of place in which he lives and how it appears to square with that definition of the ideal social unit which was the basis of all the Founders' considerations.

"At the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia in 1787, the clearly recognized problem before that conscientious body was to keep democracy alive in the small social units in which it could flourish, to bar its extension to those bigger governmental units within which 'government by all the people' would mean rule by demagogues, and to substitute for national mass rule a system of representation under which the little democracies would first delegate their best men to set up state aristocracies and would then, through two different systems of representation, local and state, create a national government by the best—by the 'aristoi'—subject always to the periodic call at the polls."

In this Narberth of ours the people are not concerned in partisan politics per se, as our households and large are well-balanced family organizations, bent on attaining life in its fullness, and their virile interest in the ballot (far exceeding that displayed by the city or the county as a whole) is merely another expression of their insistent desire to have things come to pass which will correspond with the accepted standards of American procedure as they, in their intelligence and patriotism, conceive them to be, and so this yearly demonstration

County Aid Sought for Berkeley Road

Borough Would Improve 350
Feet of Thoroughfare; Sunday
Cleaning Approved

County aid is being sought by Narberth Council for the paving of 350 feet of Berkeley road (located north from Sabine avenue to Beechwood lane) which is expected to cost $3300.

An agreement has been reached with Joseph M. O'Connor, Inc., developer of the street, for the corporation to bear one-third the cost of the paving, curbing and sidewalk. The O'Connor Corporation also will deed the necessary land for the improvement to the borough.

The plans and resolution for county aid were submitted to Council by Robert F. Wood, chairman of the Highway Committee.

Also approved was the committee's recommendation that the business sections on Haverford avenue and Woodbine avenue be cleaned each Sunday morning beginning June 20.

An angle in the line of the north side of Haverford avenue, adjacent to the tennis club, will be eliminated. Owners of the property have agreed to give to the borough the land necessary to effect the improvement.

Inlets are to be installed at the corner of Wayne and North Narberth avenue to remedy a bad drainage situation. They will be connected with the new storm water sewer pipe recently installed by the County at Narberth and Montgomery avenues.

On recommendation of the Public Safety Committee, William H. Durbin, chairman, a sign reading "Stop—Then Go When Safe" will be placed at the intersection of Conway and Windsor avenues, facing Conway avenue.

This committee, at the request of several residents, is seeking the co-operation of the Pennsylvania Railroad to make Station Circle a one-way thoroughfare.

Mr. Durbin read resolutions of regret upon the deaths of Charles P. Smith, Lower Merion's superintendent of police, and of Anthony McGranny, district fire marshal.

Burgess Hall read a letter received from the Pennsylvania Railroad to the effect that traffic plates and other needed repairs to the Narberth avenue overhead bridge would be made by June 19.

Summer Bible School

An undenominational summer Bible School will be conducted in the Narberth Presbyterian Church, Windsor and Grayling avenues, each weekday morning except Saturday, between 8.30 and 11.30, from Monday, June 21, to Friday, July 2, inclusive.

All children of the community between the ages of 5 and 12 years are invited to attend.

The youth came under the scrutiny of film officials during the Democratic convention in Philadelphia while he was delivering films for Universal Pictures.

Firemen Battle Three Blazes During Week

Flames Extinguished on Roof, in Basement and at Gate House

After more than a month of virtual inactivity, Narberth's firemen, with all apparatus, were called out three times in the last week.

Tuesday morning they extinguished a roof blaze at the Nichols' home, Braeburn lane, Penn Valley. The fire was caused by sparks from a fireplace.

After an hour's battle on Monday morning the volunteers put out a blaze at the gate house of C. P. Cook at Rockland avenue and the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge. Damage was estimated at $200.

Last Friday night the family of Chris R. P. Custer of 219 Avon road, Merion road, returned from a dinner party to find smoke pouring from the cellar of their home. The blaze was confined to an ironing board and a few articles of clothing in the basement where a servant had failed to turn off an electric iron that afternoon. Mr. Custer is vice-president of the Autocar Company.

Rod and Gun Club Members Hear Talk on Jersey Fishing

The best lakes and coastal points for fishing in New Jersey, the bait to use and the tackle to employ for various kinds of fish, all were explained Wednesday night by Lew Drueding, of the Murta & Appleton sporting goods house. He addressed the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club at the Legion room of the Community Building, Narberth.

It was announced that Sportsmen's Day in connection with Souderton's "Half Century of Progress" would be held July 6. Members of the local club expect to compete in the various events. A buffalo roast will be a feature and there will be exhibits of fish and game trophies by units of the Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs of Montgomery County.

Davismen Drop Close One to Merion 5 to 4, Beat Gladwyne, 9-2

Upsets Prove Rule in Week-End
Tilts: Upper Darby, Pottstown Scheduled

HARES LEAD CIRCUIT

You never can tell in baseball. Events of last weekend proved the truism when the buffeted and bruised Merion team rallied to take a 10-inning 5-to-4 victory from Narberth while the powerful Gladwyne team was just a 9-to-2 pushover for the Davismen.

After the dust had subsided on the various diamonds Sunday evening, the Main Line League standings showed the Brookline Hares once more in first place, Coatesville in second and Narberth and Gladwyne tied for third.

This weekend will see Upper Darby at the borough diamond providing the tail-end 69th Streeters do not forfeit as they did against Pottstown last weekend. Pottstown, whose nine comes to Narberth Sunday, also was the recipient of another forfeit game from Royersford.

Although Pottstown has one victory over the Davismen, neither of the visitors should prove much of a stumbling block to the locals. However, refer again to the first paragraph.

In the game against Merion on Saturday, Narberth put across three runs in the first to knock Glass out of the box, and another in the second. Then, with the game apparently on ice, Loftus stopped them for the remainder of the contest. Merion scored in the fourth, sixth and eighth periods, tied the score in the ninth, and then went on to get the needed marker in the 10th.

Against Gladwyne Sunday, Walter Masters, fresh from the Phillies, had the visitors popping up or hitting to the infield. Despite sloppy support from the infielders who made a total of five miscues, he never was in any danger after the borough boys got together and lambasted Georgie Severn from the mound and six runs across the plate in the fourth inning. Walker led the home team in the assault with a triple, double and single.

Masters allowed six scattered hits

Boro Office Holders Putting Party First

Will Sacrifice Individual Ambitions to Put Strong Ticket on Ballot

With the initial date for the circulation of petitions eight days away, Narberth's office holders whose terms expire this year are a bit cautious in saying whether they, as individuals, will be candidates for re-election.

As pointed out by Dr. Walter Steckbeck, secretary of the School Board, whose term as a director will expire, the election this year will be a fight between the two parties and Republicans are more interested in presenting the best field of candidates than in advancing their individual interests. Dr. Steckbeck is not seeking the office but will serve gladly if re-elected.

Mrs. H. R. Rinehart, vice-president of the School Board, when called, asked to be excused from making a statement at this time.

Burgess John R. Hall said "I will not seek re-election and wish to retire at the end of my term." However it is understood there is a strong movement underway to draft Mr. Hall for another four years.

Magistrate Howard Fritsch and borough auditor F. R. Gifford, it is believed, will be candidates for re-nomination.

For the Democrats, Magistrate Joseph F. Magarity, while "not sure" about his own candidacy, said that his party would have a complete and strong ticket in the field.

According to her organ grinder owner Josephine was purchased two years ago from Frank Buck, the man who brings 'em back alive.

Survey of Business District
Stressed by Public Improvements Group

WIDE POWERS FAVORED

"Let Narberth be the pioneer borough in Pennsylvania to have a planning commission," Walter A. Fox, chairman of the citizens' Public Improvements Committee, urged upon Borough Council Monday night at the conclusion of the group's report read by Burgess John R. Hall.

While many projects were discussed in the report, the Borough Planning Commission was the principal recommendation of the committee after four months' research.

The committee, appointed by the burgess in February, consists of Fox, T. Noel Butler, Frank A. Schrepfer and Robert C. Collins, who were present at the council session, and also J. J. Cabrey, Ralph S. Dunne and Dr. O. J. Snyder.

Discussion on the report indicated that council favors the Planning Commission and that an ordinance will be prepared authorizing the body. The report was referred to the Ordinance and Law Committee of which Roland Fleer is chairman.

Mr. Schrepfer suggested to council that in framing the ordinance the commission be given as wide powers as possible. "Council, after all," he said, "has a final veto power over such a body by refusing appropriations for work it does not approve." Limited powers would merely hamstring such a group, he held.

As outlined by the report "such a Planning Commission would serve without compensation and would be empowered to employ engineers, town planning authorities, etc."

The report, in part, follows:

"Narberth is unique in its location in the center of a large residential area the communities of which for the most part depend upon the facilities of adjacent towns for domestic supplies and services. Under the assumption that Narberth's shopping facilities and Narberth's churches attract many of our surrounding neighbors

Rise of Photography Discussed at Rotary

Bala - Cynwyd - Narberth Club
Hears Philip A. Livingston
Talk on Current Hobby

The rise of photography as a work-wide hobby was discussed Tuesday at the meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary club by Philip A. Livingston, one of the members.

The speaker gave a brief history of the rise of picture taking from the Civil War days of cumbersome, slow equipment to the modern fad of miniature or "candid" photography.

The great increase in the number of amateurs, the multiplication of picture magazines, and rapid improvement in equipment were cited as examples of the current fad.

"Modern amateur photography had its inception with the invention of roll film," the speaker said, "and reached its present widespread state of popularity through the rise of the miniature precision camera. Fast lenses and highly sensitive film emulsions gave rise to indoor candid snapshots and opened up a new field to the amateur."

Drunken Driving

Alcohol is called "The Fourth Horseman of the Highway" in a scathing editorial attack on drunken driving in the June issue of Keystone Motorist, official publication of the Keystone Automobile Club.

"Drunken driving," asserts the editorial, "is a fast-growing highway menace."

"The stupid, senseless but increasingly prevalent habit of drinking while driving is smearing a bloody trail across a Nation aghast at the soaring accident tide."

"Alcohol has joined with speed, recklessness and incompetence to form a new and fearsome quartet of death and destruction. It has become the fourth horseman of the highway."

"Some authorities estimate that approximately seven per cent of all the country's drivers involved in fatal accidents last year had been 'drinking.' It has also been developed that one out of nine pedestrians killed in 1936 had been 'drinking' prior to the accidents which caused their deaths."

"Conclusive proof that gasoline and booze make a poor safety mixture is gleaned from an analysis of Pennsylvania accident statistics. The tell-tale figures show that drunken motorist fatalities have increased every year since 1930 and, even more surprisingly, that drunken pedestrian fatalities have outstripped the number of intoxicated motorists killed on the highways of the State."

"More damaging evidence against the drinking-and-driving menace is unearthed by figures showing that early morning motor vehicle crashes continue to exceed by a wide margin the evening rush hour toll, formerly the deadliest period of the day."

"All doubt should be dispelled by the record of operators' license revocations in Pennsylvania during the first four months and ten days of 1937. Out of a total of 1899 license revocations, 1406 drivers were denied the operating privilege because of intoxication, coupled in many cases with other serious offenses of motor vehicle law."

"Such truly astonishing figures leave little room for argument. The situation is one of utmost gravity, and sooner or later must be faced. The vast majority of motorists who make legitimate use of the highways have a right to expect protection from the irresponsible element."

"The Four Horsemen of the Highway are riding to a new record of death and misery. This year's death toll is freely predicted to reach an all-time high of 50,000. How many thousands will be caused by that most unpardonable of all motoring crimes—drunken driving?"

Safety Lanes

Editor, Our Town:

Those of us who have occasion to walk about the business section of Narberth may note with considerable satisfaction, the wider safety lanes and wider white lines which the borough has provided for the safety of pedestrians.

These cross walks, or safety lanes, at street intersections and a few other convenient places, are distinctly for the benefit of pedestrians who have occasion to cross the street, and proper appreciation should be shown the Borough Council for their thoughtfulness in providing them.

This appreciation may best be shown by using the safety lanes always when crossing the street. "Jay-walking" is dangerous alike to pedestrians and drivers of cars.

A pedestrian crossing in a lane provided for the purpose is entitled to all consideration from drivers of vehicles, and when a pedestrian has started to cross in a safety lane, vehicle traffic should halt until the pedestrian is safely across. Pedestrians cannot claim this consideration when they "jay-walk" or dart across from behind parked cars, etc.

In Pasadena, where I spent some time last summer, safety lanes are provided, such as we now have in Narberth, at all important intersections, and in that city there is a fine of three dollars imposed on a driver who fails to halt when a pedestrian is in a safety lane, and there is also a fine of three dollars imposed on a pedestrian who "jay-walks" and fails to use the safety lane when crossing the street.

These markings are done at considerable expense and for the sole purpose of our safety and convenience. Let us show our appreciation to the borough authorities and secure the greatest measure of safety for ourselves by using the lanes when crossing the street.

Inauguration of Play "Bonus" at Narberth Theatre Monday

"Top of the Town," now at the Narberth, is the musical revue in which Doris Nolan, an heiress with fifty million dollars and some daffy ideas, decides to put some of the latter into effect in a night club managed by George Murphy. The cast includes Hugh Herbert, Mischa Auer and Gregory Ratoff.

Monday and Tuesday will see the start of the Narberth's Play "Bonus" with many valuable prizes to the lucky winners. The feature will be "When Love is Young," with Virginia Bruce as a small-town high school girl, whose parents think she's "tops." In New York she meets failure as a singer until Kent Taylor, press agent for a new show, transforms her as to looks and voice.

On Wednesday (Cash Award Night) Sally Eilers and James Dunn will be seen in a gay comedy, "We Have Our Moments."

Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday the super attraction will be "Wake Up and Live" with those enemies of the ether, Walter Winchell and Ben Bernie, plus the torch songs of Alice Faye.

FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

Thousands of Chevrolet users will tell you that the best answer to your transportation needs is—Chevrolet trucks! Chevrolet trucks are the most economical for all-round duty . . . because they give maximum gas and oil mileage, and will keep on serving over a long period with minimum care and attention.

Red Arrow Insignia for Fine Bus Service

New Trade-Mark But Same Management, Transit Officials State

Questions have been pouring into the travel bureau at the 69th St.-Garrett Road Terminal asking about the new Red Arrow Lines insignia which has recently been placed on all rail cars and buses operated by the Philadelphia Suburban Transportation Co. and the Aronimink Transportation Co. At a press meeting, H. H. Aikens, vice-president of both companies, gave the following explanation: "We are proud of the service which our bus and rail car lines are now giving to all those living in suburbs to the west of Philadelphia. The new name means absolutely no change in the management which has introduced the new speeded-up service. In other words, the Red Arrow Lines insignia which has just been registered in Harrisburg is our trade-mark, the mark of safe equipment and convenient on-time schedules."

In general appearance the new mark is that of a circle partly enclosing a red winged arrow with the words in white. All buses and rail cars carrying this mark operate from the new 69th St.-Garrett Road terminal except several crosstown lines which build up the completely integrated system.

Revised timetables of the Red Arrow Lines now show greater frequency of schedules especially during rush hours. This is in response to the growing traffic to and from the popular suburbs served by the company's lines. Special rates have been made effective and the public is invited to inquire about these at the company's travel bureau in the terminal building, or to ask the operator of any rail car or bus.

M., D. S. T.

Beth-Raffen M. E. Church Goes Under Hammer June 30

The old Methodist Church of Beth-Raffen, a landmark in Narberth for forty odd years, will go under the sheriff's hammer at Norristown at 12 noon (E. S. T.) June 30.

Title to the long unused sanctuary is now held by the Narberth M. E. Church, which stands across the street from the Church of Beth-Raffen at Price and Essex avenues.

Rev. W. Vernon Middleton, pastor of the Narberth church, explained the congregation decided to let the building go and the State Department of Banking, now handling the affairs of a closed bank which held a $10,000 mortgage, started foreclosure proceedings.

Built in 1895, the building is described in mundane terms in the legal advertisement scheduling the sale: "One-story stone church, 34 feet front, 48 feet deep, with one-story addition, 8 feet by 10 feet cellar, electric lights."

"Shaw Festival" Opens at Hedgerow July 19

Seats Now on Sale for Unique Event at Moylan-Rose Valley

The box office sale for the Hedgerow Theatre Shaw Festival started Tuesday at Moylan-Rose Valley. Mail orders to date display an increased interest over previous seasons, many of them arriving from distant states and reserving seats for a number of successive nights.

Until the festival opens July 19, Hedgerow will continue its usual six nights a week schedule.

Friday will mark the third performance of the revival of Molnar's "Lilium." In restaging this popular play, Jasper Deeter has departed from the theatre's former production and presented a simplified, stylized version which throws into high relief the major dramatic conflicts of this stirring drama of inarticulate people.

Joseph Taulane, who played the title role in the former production, has returned from a season of playing on Broadway to resume his role as Lilium. Miriam Phillips will be seen as Julie, Laura Freund as Marie and Jasper Deeter will play the rogue, Fiesur.

Shaw's "Saint Joan" will be presented Saturday, while the schedule for next week includes: Monday, "An American Tragedy," Tuesday, "Noah," Wednesday, "Inheritors," Thursday, "Beyond the Horizon."

Planning Commission for Borough Strongly Urged

 bers, our borough problem is twofold: to enhance the desirability of our town as a zoned residential community; and by providing the most convenient possible public facilities, to make our shopping center readily available and attractive not only to Narberthites, but those who live around us.

"As individuals many of our citizens have ideas as to what are the most needed improvements for the borough. Some think our most pressing community need is a new railroad station; some believe that additional street communication with the south side must be provided by a railroad underpass; others are of the opinion that the confines of the business section are too restricted; others believe that adjacent to the present railroad station on the north side, some scheme should be worked out with the railroad to provide new shops and a parking plaza; we have heard it suggested that a new street be opened up between and parallel with Haverford avenue and Windsor avenue. Another suggests that the widening of Haverford avenue both east and west of Essex avenue will be an eventual necessity.

"However constructive these and many other recommendations may be, it is manifest that they are based on opinions rather than data. Major public improvements should be undertaken only after a competent survey of the needs of the community projected for many years.

"A detailed business survey would be in order. The assessed valuation of all of the property on Haverford avenue between Essex and Narberth; on the east side of Essex from Haverford to Windsor; on both sides of Forrest and Narberth in the corresponding blocks, is $424,100.00. At the 38 mill tax rate this returns to the borough $16,115.80 annually. The volume of business done by the merchants has a bearing on improvements in the shopping district for large revenue producing properties are naturally more valuable. If any business property was condemned it would naturally enhance the value of remaining property so that the profit possibilities for merchants would not be affected adversely. From the figures given it would appear that the condemnation of property is not an economic impossibility.

"As a result of the facts which it could ascertain, a Borough Planning Commission would be able to make recommendations for specific ordinances. Such ordinances might provide that future building be set back considerably further from the present curb line than is now dictated. An architectural scheme for the business section could be devised with the expectation that owners would see the advantages of conformity.

"Such obvious danger spots as the corner of Wynnewood road and Montgomery avenue might be eliminated in co-operation with Lower Merion Township or Montgomery County, provided the facts are made available to prove the necessity."

Let Our Town follow you on vacation. Send in your change of address.

Fourth Celebration Americanism Beacon

 tion of appreciation and loyalty to the best form of government ever devised by mortal man certainly is a most logical event to occur amongst us.

There are predatory forces abroad in the land and so bewildering are some of the things we now behold that a real fear stalks in many places. The problem, of course, is gigantic, stretching its roots to far-off places, but always it has been that the chaos and the cancer precede the cure and we may be grateful and confident that the perils shall not overwhelm us and that as the situation develops further, as it will and should for the inevitable correction, our well-founded formula of human relationships shall not be found wanting and our triumph is bound to beget a quickened country which will be even more beloved.

Thoughts like these may seem to be quite too ponderous when submitted in connection with a simple little town collection for a fireworks fund, but, after all, very profound factors are involved in such a notable occasion, albeit the observance is of homely design, and if that were not so the affair would only have the same value and significance as any other evening of fun and frolic.

You are invited to send a dollar or two to the Fourth of July Fund Treasurer, Carl B. Metzger, Jr., at the bank, please, and the list of those who contribute will be published in Our Town, not to proclaim your charity, for it is none of that, but chiefly to present a serried ranks of men and women who are ready to pay tribute to the protection and sound progress which must always and forever be the precious boon of this America, so help us God.

 THE SPECTATOR.
